Independent Says Judge Playing Politics

Francis B. "Guy" Davis indicated Tuesday he will go into court if County Judge Carroll Brown refuses to certify his name as an independent candidate for county commissioner in the November election.

Davis accused Judge Brown of playing politics.

Davis, a former participant in American Party affairs in this county, seeks to oppose incumbent Bill Butler for the Precinct 4 post.

Judge Brown said he would not order Davis' name to be placed on the ballot in spite of a petition bearing 498 signatures requesting that he do so. Randall County records reflect that of six persons having circulated the Davis petition, four participated as members of the American Party in 1968.

Judge Brown said that under Texas election laws Davis should have filed Feb. 2 like candidates for the two primaries.

"An affidavit of intent to run must be filed at the same time other candidates must file," Brown declared. Brown cited Sec. 1347A of the Texas Election Code.

"Article 1312 says they must file not later than 6 p.m. on the first Monday in February preceding the primary," Brown went on. "This is the same time as Democrats and Republicans must file in order to be on the ballot. This year it was Feb. 2. The same article says independents must file with the county judge. Davis did not file in time to run."

Judge Brown said his ruling has been confirmed by the state attorney general's office.

"I complied with Article 1350 of the election code," said Davis.

He said that even Judge Brown had agreed when the petition was submitted to him.

"He agreed that if the signatures on the petition were valid he would issue an order to place my name on the ballot," Davis went on. "He even carried my petition down to LeRoy Hutton (the county clerk) and told him to check them.

"It just looks like they're playing politics."

Davis noted that both Judge Brown and Butler are running as Republicans. "They just don't want any competition," he declared.

Davis said his attorney, Henry T. Ray of Amarillo, would confer with Judge Brown on the matter.

"He (Ray) thinks Judge Brown will not stay with his decision once we have conferred with him," Davis went on. "He has brought up

West Texas Bank Has Rapid Growth

West Texas State Bank of Canyon---three years old Feb. 18--- emerged over the past year as one of the most rapidly growing banks in the Amarillo area.

The June 30 financial statement of the Canyon bank showed a gain of almost $800,000 over the call on that date a year previous.

The latest statement showed deposits of $3,877,993.96 as compared to $3,088,000 a year ago--- a whopping growth of 20.4 percent.

West Texas State Bank first opened its doors for business at the old building at the corner of Fourth Avenue and Fifteenth Street. It has since moved to a modern building on Fourth across the street from Sternenberg Lumber Company.

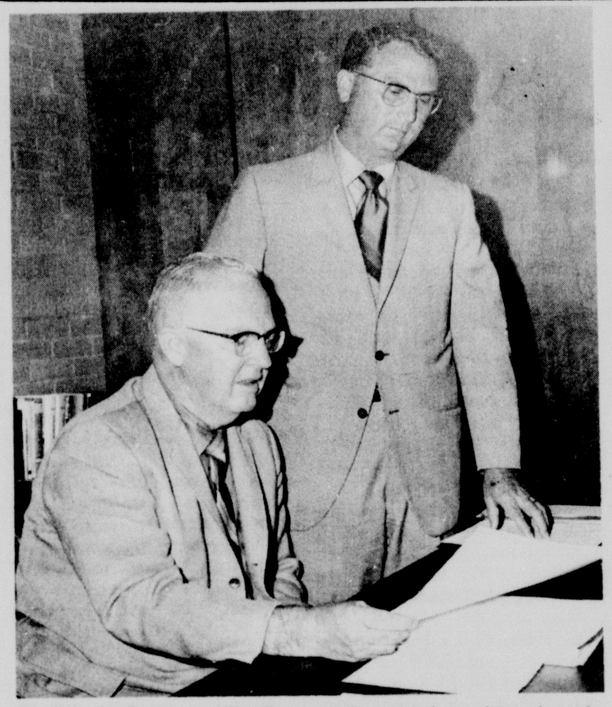

DAVID LEVENS

Grady Hazlewood, who is retiring the first of the year after more than three decades as state senator, is chairman of the bank's board of directors. David Levens is West Texas State Bank's president.

The present directors are the same as when the bank began business.

They include Clarence Beckman, an Umbarger farmer and county commissioner; Dr. J. Manly Bryan, Canyon mayor and member of the Neblett Memorial Hospital staff; Clay Cooper, Canyon businessman; H.R. Fulton, Jr., Canyon florist and city commissioner; Ed Harrell, prominent Canyon and area rancher; Virgil Henson resident of Canyon for 35 years and financial vice president of West Texas State University; Dean House, Canyon, the bank's vice president; Milton Morris, Canyon educator and founder of the now famous Opportunity Plan at WTSU; and J.M. White, well known Canyon farmer.

Officers of the bank point with pride to the fact that the growth of the institution has been steady. The June 30 call in 1967 showed deposits of $1,330,000 and on June 28, 1968 deposits were $2,625,000.

Dr. Emmitt Smith and Dr. Kenneth Laycock formulate plans for the TTT program for the training of teacher trainers. The pilot program in Texas is being directed by Dr. Smith, Dr. Laycock will head the WTSU segment of the program.

Universities Receive Grants For Education

A grant of $993,737 from the U.S. Office of Education has been accepted by the Texas Education Agency for research in the field of teacher training.

West Texas State University will receive $125,010 of this grant for the 1970-71 year for exploratory work in the study of pre-service training given prospective teachers.

The pilot program in training teacher trainers, to be called the Triple T Program, will extend over a four year period with grants totaling $2,200,029 depending on the success of the first year program.

To be directed by Dr. Emmitt Smith, WTSU vice-president of research and development, the program will include four areas of the state and cooperating institutions. Participating in addition to West Texas State will be Texas Christian University, Fort Worth and Bishop College in Dallas; University of Texas at El Paso and the University of Houston.

West Texas State University was chosen as a participant in this program on the basis of past interest and work in the field of developing new methods of teacher training.

An example of this is the Panhandle Educational Services Organization program developed by Dr. Smith which has been accepted as a statewide program with 20 PESO centers.

In the past year, Dr. Kenneth Laycock, dean of the School of Education, has received a grant for research in the field of performance oriented teacher education.

Because of the work already done in this area and because of the already existing administrative structure of the PESO program, Texas was selected to receive this pilot program. Only two other states, Washington and Florida, have begun studies in this field. The three states will work cooperatively through a national component with the ultimate goal being the dissemination of new ideas in teacher education based on performance to all educational institutions in the United States. Co-ordination of the Texas project at the state level will be through the Texas Education Agency.

Official title of the program will be the Texas Performance Based TTT Project. Its purpose is to retrain teacher trainers: people in

Renovation Is Approved

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission has approved a $50,000 renovation project for Coronado Lodge in Palo Duro Canyon. The Lodge was formerly a souvenir shop.

According to Johnny Buck, assistant Director of Field Operations for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, the lodge will be converted into an interpretative center following renovations.

"The concept and need for these centers has been here for some time. From the point of implementation it is a relatively new idea," Buck stated.

"In 1966-67 we first got into building interpretative

Sign Contracts For Truck Center

Geary Taylor of Canyon, representative of Mobil Oil Corp. signed a 15-year lease Tuesday to operate a quarter-million dollar truck stop in the Industrial Plaza of Panhandle Downs, Inc., west of Umbarger.

Panhandle Downs will begin construction immediately on the building which will contain a restaurant, truckers lounge, eight rooms and showers for truckers, workroom, sales room and drive through bays that will allow servicing of cars and semi-trailer rigs.

The building will cover a 56 by 60 foot area with an area of 300 x 400 feet under asphalt. Truck islands will accomodate six semi-rigs and two additional islands will service cars.

Taylor expects to operate 24 hours a day with workers coming in three shifts. He plans to hire as many college kids as possible to work the shifts. Mechanics will be on duty at all times and the annual payroll is estimated at $22,000.

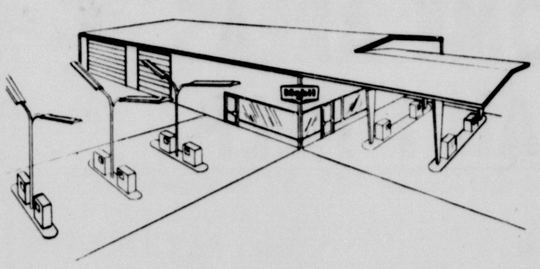

Mobil Oil will spend $33,950 for equipment and installation as part of the total cost.

According to Taylor, construction will be complete in 60-90 days. "Mobil is going to be the hold up. Equipment is being shipped from Arkansas."

Taylor estimates a half-million dollar operation in gross sales per annum.

Construction will be by Pam-Tex Corp. of Pampa, dirt contracting by Lewis Construction and concrete work by Hartco, located in the Industrial Plaza. Industrial Plaza is handled by Emmett Davis of Dumas, realtor.

It was also announced by Charles Sanders, executive director of Panhandle Downs, Inc., that Lot 14 of the Plaza has been sold to Tom Kemp, Ford Tractor dealer at Hereford. Plans for this tract are to be announced.

The Mobil Oil Corp. will operate this quarter million dollar truck facility in the Industrial Plaza of Panhandle Downs, Inc. Estimated completion date is 60-90 days.

Regents Consider Budget Request

West Texas State University will ask the 1971 Texas Legislature for $15.5 million for the 1972-73 biennium. This is about $5 million more than was appropriated for the biennium ending Aug. 31, 1971.

The university's budget request will be acted upon by its new Board of Regents at a meeting in Dallas Friday. The 10 a.m. meeting at the Sheraton Dallas Hotel will be the first held off campus since the board was appointed last year by Gov. Preston Smith.

West Texas State seeks a net appropriation of $7,467,550 for the 1971 fiscal year and $8,034,900 for the second year of the biennium.

Virgil Henson, university financial vice president, estimates local income for each of the two years at more than $1.1 million.

The budget request is submitted to the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System to be forwarded to the Legislature.

"The request is made under formulae set down by the Coordinating Board with 85 per cent being fixed items," Dr. James P. Cornette, university president said.

The Legislature appropriated $4,076,199 for the first year of the current biennium and $5,517,048 for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1.

The regents also were asked to approve $114,000 for each year of the 1972-73 biennium for the Panhandle-

Weather Balloon Found By Boy Scout

A U.S. Weather Bureau balloon drifted down over Camp Don Harrington Sunday and was retrieved by Kirk Bentley.

According to Kirk, the balloon was deflated and the instruments were attached to an orange water proofed type paper parachute. A battery was attached to the instrument case and a hoop was attached to the bottom of the chute to keep the strings from tangling around the instrument package.

Data collected at high altitude by the equipment will be mailed back to the Weather Bureau at Joliet, Ill. It had been launched Sunday morning by the Weather Bureau in Amarillo. The information collected is used in making weather forecasts and in preparing storm warnings according to information printed on the return package.

Kirk, age 11 is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Bentley of 402 Holman Lane. He is a member of Troop 31, Boy Scouts and will be in seventh grade at Canyon Junior High School.

Kirk Bentley, a member of Scout Troop 31, found a U.S. Weather Bureau balloon this weekend while on an outing at Camp Don Harrington. Data collected by instruments attached to the balloon will be used to determine weather conditions and in preparing storm warnings.

County Asks City To Share Jail Expenses

County Judge Carroll Brown Monday told commissioners court he has dispatched a letter to Canyon city commission giving a detailed analysis of the number of prisoners handled by the county sheriff's department for the city last year.

Attached documents enumerate 141 city arrests of persons whose cases fall within the jurisdiction of the municipal court.

The county is seeking to get the city to bear a greater share of maintaining the county jail which the city uses. The city of Canyon has no jail facility.

"You will notice that most of the persons arrested were released on the same day they were arrested," wrote the county judge. "However, each person was photographed, fingerprinted and processed in the same manner in which major misdemeanor and felony defendants are processed.

"It is my understanding that the fines paid by these defendants were all paid to the city of Canyon. Three defendants served their time in jail in lieu of paying a fine."

Sheriff L.S. "Slim" Johnston has pointed out that

Cates Holds Slim Lead

Phil Cates' tentative 3-vote hold on the nomination for state representative in the 79th district rests with a decision by the State Democratic Executive Committee.

A majority of the 62 member Committee must meet by tomorrow and canvas votes in a recount of ballots cast in the June 6 runoff election between Cates of Lefors and Ray Trosper of Higgins.

Cates, assistant Dean of Student Life at West Texas State University, was first declared winner of the election until it was discovered that the Hemphill County Clerk had made an error in tabulation.

The Democratic Executive Committee then gave the election to Trosper by a margin of 17 votes. Cates asked for a recount. The tally now stands at 2,709 for Cates and 2,706 for Trosper. This is an unofficial total released by the State Democratic Executive committee pending official canvassing

Judge Carroll Brown reiterated Wednesday that Guy Davis is not going to get on the November ballot without a court fight and Davis has all but promised one if he doesn't.

Davis wants on the ballot as an independent to oppose Bill Butler for the Precinct 4 commissioners post in the general election.

We should see the matter thrashed out before Judge Gene Jordan sometime in the near future. I say Jordan because Brown is running for district judge against the 181st District incumbent, Don Dean.

If Davis does get on the ballot it would pay him big dividends to bone up on the issues before November. I talked to him Tuesday and he gave as one of his reasons for running the fact that a surplus commodity warehouse has been opened in Randall County.

Bill Butler and other members of the court did everything in their power to prevent the warehouse being opened and it was opened in spite of them by the state and federal governments.

Davis said he opposes the council of governments-type Panhandle Regional Planning Commission endorsed by Butler. This isn't going to make a very good platform plank since Amarillo Mayor J. Ernest Stroud used it as his whole platform in a primary bid for Randall County judge and was swamped by Joseph Schley.

And speaking of the surplus commodity warehouse, Gay Long, who operates the warehouse here in Canyon says 34 persons--men, women and children--have been served since it opened June 17.

James Cason with the state welfare department in Amarillo had predicted that more than 300 would be served the first month.

Mrs. Long says the people served are mostly elderly people from Canyon.

Regardless of what they think about the program, anyone who has met Mrs. Long will have to say she is a charming lady who handles applicants with tact and kindness.

I attended the Babe Ruth tournament held here this week and the baseball field where it was played is a credit to the communtiy.

Many deserve credit for the good shape the field is in but the people who most readily come to mind for praise include George Ritter, Dudley Moore and Richard Thompson. Probably a dozen others will be called to my attention as soon as this edition is on the street.

To anyone who had anything to do with the condition of the field for the tournament, congratulations are in order.

Joe Gibson has just returned from a Lions Club Convention in Atlantic City, N. J. He and Mrs. Gibson saw some of the historical sights of Old Philadelphia while they were there.

Joe said he was at crowded Philadelphia airport when a young man tapped him on the shoulder and called his name. He turned around to face Davis and Janet Price who were on their way to Europe.

Janet is the former Janet Gerald of Canyon.

Joe bragged that at the convention he traded one Texas Lions Club pin for two from other points.

Phil Cates, assistant dean of Student Life at West Texas State University, has had a nerve-wracking experience in his first political venture.

He was declared the winner in his state representative race on the North Plains, the loser and finally the winner by three votes.

If he winds up on the ballot, all the publicity he's gotten will be a help to him in fall general election.

Tennis Camp Opens July 26

West Texas State's third tennis camp session of the summer is slated from July 26 to Aug. 1.

Camp director David Kent, the West Texas State University tennis coach, reports there are a few openings for the third week-long session.

Youngsters from six states have attended the previous two camp periods.

Campers will use the new tennis complex, which has 10 Uni-Turf courts and four laykold courts. They will also be able to use the new Activities Center, which has an Olympic-sized swimming pool, 10 four-wall handball courts and an eight-lane bowling alley.

Persons interested in attending the camp should contact Kent at West Texas State.

Troop 197 Wins Award

Highest percentage in attendance award and a total of merit badges were earned by members of Boy Scout Troop 197 this past week at Camp Don Harrington.

Each member attending advanced at least one mark.

Three candidates from the troop were tapped for the "Order of the Arrow." These were Marvin Fite, scoutmaster, David Fite and Roy Lund. They will be initiated Aug. 14 at the camp.

Boys from this troop who attended were Cliff Prichard, Ross Griffin, Ben Richardson, David Fite, Paul Griffin, Stan Prichard, Colin Weaver, Roy Lund and Cruz Luna.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

There is, undeniably, much wrong with America. But anyone who did not want to celebrate the anniversary of our dearly-bought independence might find it profitable to stop and consider the things that are right with America.

The greatest thing that is right with our country is the priviledge of worshipping our Creator any time, any place, and any way we please, without interference from the government.

Our next greatest blessing is our abundance. No man need go hungry. If he is willing and able to work, he can always find employment. He may not find exactly the kind of work he wants where he wants it, but work is available, and he is free to go anywhere to get it. (In many countries of the world, one cannot leave his native city without a permit, and permits are frequently unobtainable.)

People unable to provide for themselves are supported by productive citizens.

A general education is practically free to everyone who has the capacity and motivation to attain it.

Good hospitals and capable doctors and nurses are available, and medicine is plentiful.

The disgruntled American may say "so what?" Then let him recall that no other people on earth have all these privileges. Yet three federal judges in Florida have decreed that school children do not have to salute the flag nor stand at attention for the National Anthem.

When one remembers all the zealous, dedicated, courageous men who have died to create and preserve this nation where every law-abiding citizen can live in freedom and comfort, it is difficult to understand one refusing to show respect to our homeland as symbolized by our flag.

There are still millions of Americans who feel tremendous love and gratitude for our country--right or wrong, just as we do for our mothers.

Nothing grieves a mother's heart more than for her children to fight each other. When she makes realistic rules, and impartially and consistently enforces them, this seldom happens.

Where no rules are enforced, the bullies naturally take over. Then man is back to the law of the jungle: the survival of the fittest.

Every student who objectively examines history has to conclude that all the great civilizations of the past were born hardworking, thrifty, and conservative; they died liberal, lazy, and profligate.

Some currently popular trends in our nation inspire terror in the hearts of those who love her, just as a malignancy does in the breast of a healthy young mother. How would children react to a mother who ignored the situation and made no effort to eradicate the cancer? Should we ignore cancerous growths in our beloved mother country?

Every adult is aware that his mother has shortcomings; does he try to destroy her? Civilization evolved from longhaired, idle, dirty savages. Do we want to return to that state?

Goodness is relative. When we compare conditions in America to what they were a generation or two ago, they look sad indeed. But when we compare them with the other nations of the world, we have to admit we still have the finest country on the face of the earth. Anyone unwilling to work and fight for her life and health should seek refuge in a country he can love and respect.

Governor Preston Smith has announced his approval of Emergency Food and Medical Service grants totaling $200,000 in new federal funds.

Funded under Title II of the Economic Opportunity Act, these grants authorize expenditures for food and medical care on an emergency and temporary basis to those in dire need of such services. Also, local resources will be utilized to combat the causes of hunger.

Texas Panhandle Community Action Corporation in Amarillo receives $165,000 for their program which begins September 1, 1970 and ends May 31, 1972. Approximately 17,000 persons are expected to benefit from this grant.

Registration forms are available at the First Christian Church for Family Camp to be held Aug. 9-12 at Ceta Glen Christian Camp. Cost is $10 for adults, $7 for school age youth and $5 for pre-school children.

Scrapcraft Provides Recreation When Sun Is Too Hot

With summertime comes the usual summer activities--swimming, boating, bicycling--all outdoor activities.

But when the days are too hot for the kids to go outside, sometimes they are at a loss about what to do.

One idea to help children pass those hours is scrapcraft.

Just about anything around the house can be used in making toys for children--scraps of material, old socks, buttons, newspapers, magazines. About the only thing that limits what the children can do with these items is their imagination.

Scraps of material, a bottle of glue, pipe cleaners and scissors can all add up to a bouquet of cloth flowers. Two pieces of material, cut by the same pattern to form a flower are glued together and shaped while the glue is drying.

When the glue has dried, the material will hold the shape it has been molded into. A hole punched in the bottom of the flower will provide a place for the pipe cleaner stem. Glue should be put around the hole to prevent the stem from falling out.

More advanced scrapcrafters might want to cut petals out separately and sew them together, using a button for the center of the flower.

Even a loaf of bread can enter into the game and can be used to make flowers.

Tear a half piece of bread into bits and mix with just enough glue to make it doughy. Roll the mixture into a ball until it is the right texture to be shaped. By pulling and twisting the mixture, flowers of all kinds can be shaped.

A bottle of glycerine should be handy as a few drops on the child's hands will keep the mixture from sticking or crumbling.

A toothpick stuck in the still moist mixture becomes a stem. Once the flower has dried, it can be painted or dipped into food dye.

Popsicle sticks can be transformed into a jewelry box, a purse, a letter holder or any number of things with a dab of glue and some paint.

If the kids don't eat enough popsicles during the summer to provide enough sticks, most hobby stores have a supply.

A Reader's Digest with the top half of each page folded diagonally and the covers brought together to form a circle can form the base for a doll or clown. Any number of things can be used to form a head which is placed at the top of the base. Pipe cleaners can be used as arms, yarn as hair, and scraps of material will make hats, scarves, sleeves and collars.

With a few scraps and a lot of imagination, those hot summer days indoors may not be a total loss after all.

Committee Dedicates 4 Markers

Four historical markers will be dedicated to Randall County by the Randall County Historical Survey Committee during the Canyon Days celebration July 25.

The dedication ceremony is scheduled for 11:30 a.m. in Conner Park, following the parade.

To be dedicated are the markers telling of the Battle of Palo Duro Canyon, located 12 miles east of Canyon on State Highway 217; the Range of the Ciboleros, located 5 miles east of Canyon on Highway 217; the old JA Ranch, at the entrance to Palo Duro State Park; and the Civil War Veterans Reunions, located on the Square in Canyon.

The Battle of Palo Duro Canyon involved the 4th Cavalry under the command of Co. Ronald S. MacKenzie and a band of Indians from reservations at Fort Sill and Fort Reno in 1874-75. The Indians were secretly camped in Palo Duro Canyon and the troops found the camp before the Indians could flee.

The Indians fired upon the troops in order to give their families time to escape. MacKenzie ordered the Indian camp and supplies burned. The troops withdrew, taking along 1,400 captured horses. 1,000 of which were later destroyed.

The Indians were forced to return to their reservations.

The JA Ranch was established by Texas cattleman Charles Goodnight and Englishman John Adair in 1876 in Palo Duro Canyon.

The Pioneer venture became one of the largest cattle operations in the world, taking in more than a million acres of land and grazzing 101,023 head of cattle.

Buffalo hunters wandered the Range of the Ciboleros during the early 18th century. They used a six-foot lance to pierce the lungs of bison. They cut the meat in strips, hung it to dry on ropes of cactus fiber or rawhide, poured tallow on meat, rolled it and sold it in Mexico as jerked meat.

The Civil War Veterans reunions were celebrated annually in Canyon from 1900-1910 and were a focal point of social life.

Several thousand people arrived by horseback, train, buckboard and covered wagon to attend the reunions. Many of them pitched tents and built fires to cook thei r meals.

Activities at the reunions included speeches by politicians, farm and garden shows, ball games, contests in bulldogging and bronco busting and balloon ascensions.

FHA Raids For Bottles

Nine members of Can-High School's Future Homemakers of America hit the streets Monday morning to collect bottles for their annual Pop Bottle Raid.

The girls collected about 275 cartons of pop bottles during the one-day door-to-door raid, according to Mary Ann Lindsey, president of FHA.

The bottles were traded for a refund at Taylor and Son's Market. The girls made about $70 from the project.

The proceeds will be used to finance the spring Parent-Daughter Banquet held each year by the group.

Girls participating in the drive were Miss Lindsey, Claire Daugherty, Frances Maxwell, Mary Eggemeyer, Kay Smith, Dianna Wilhite, Melanie Sikes, Pat Wieck and Jan Wieck.

Babe Ruth All-Stars Win Two, Lose To Pampa All-Stars 5 - 0

After battling their way to the finals, Canyon's 13-year-old Babe Ruth All-Stars lost to Pampa 5-0 and emerged as runners up in the district tournament here Tuesday night.

The Canyon team came from behind Monday night to beat Plainview.

Plainview led 2-0 in the top of the seventh inning. Canyon had two men on when rain began falling and the game was called for about 45 minutes.

When the rain subsided the Canyon bunch tied the score and then scored three runs in the eighth to win. Gary LaGrone caught all three games. Ronnie Hicks was winning pitcher in the game with Plainview.

Canyon again won an overtime victory Tuesday afternoon, this time against Olton. Olton led 3-2 in the seventh. Canyon tied the score in that inning and went on to defeat the visitors 4-3 in the eighth.

Danny Morrow pitched against Olton.

Steve King pitched against Pampa and in spite of some excellent fielding the Canyon team was never able to connect in the scoring department.

On the Canyon team were LaGrone, King, Hicks, Wilkes Stephens, Dan Morrow, Steve Wilbur, Ray Hicks, Dale Simon, Ronnie Williams, Steve Lehman, Vernon DeWeese and Lynn Wright.

The 15-year-old Babe Ruth All-Stars open in a double elimination district tournament at Dumas at 8:30 o'clock next Tuesday night. They will be playing the winner of the Monday afternoon Muleshoe-Dumas game.

Teams entered in the tournament include Canyon, Muleshoe, Dumas, Spearman, Plainview and Olton. Winner of the Dumas Tournament will go to the West Texas Tournament at Brownfield July 26.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. and Mrs. G.H. Prichard over the weekend were their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Turner, of San Antonio. Children of the couple are David, Judy, Michael and Trisha.

The Turners were in town for the Prichard Family reunion last weekend.

Cast Families Attend Show

The first week of the "TEXAS" production of 1970 drew 7,500 people to the Pioneer Amphitheatre in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Paul Green's musical drama of early Texas life attracted many members of the families of the cast during its first days. On Friday alone, July third, relatives came from Colorado and New Mexico, from Irving, Texas and El Paso to visit various cast members and see the performance.

Steve Garms of Plainview had the largest number of relatives-twenty-two. His brother Bradley and a friend, Kelly Baker, made it a special occasion by riding their bicycles to the theatre from Plainview, sixty-four miles. They arrived in good time for the performance.

Band Camp To Open Sunday On Campus

Sunday marks the opening of the 18th annual West Texas Music Camp on the campus of WTSU.

Twenty-five Canyon students and two Umbarger students will be among the 1,070 attending the two-week camp.

A schedule for auditions and completion of registration has been set up for Sunday afternoon.

Students will report to the Fine Arts Building in the following order of last initials:

A-C --- 12:30 p.m.
D-J --- 1:30 p.m.
K-Q --- 2:30 p.m.
R-Z --- 3:30 p.m.
Late Comers --- 4 p.m.

Cost for the music camp is $32.50. Students staying in the dorms will pay an additional $47.50 for room and board, plus a $10 deposit which will be returned on the last day of camp if no damage has been done to the room.

Campers are required to sign up for five periods during the camp. Classes to be offered include sections in junior high band, varsity, concert, symphonic and honors band, drum majoring, music appreciation, theory, stage band, choir, reading bands and small ensemble experiences in brass choir, clarinet choir, woodwind ensemble and percussion ensemble.

Three reading bands will be organized by audition from the better performers in the camp. These groups will never perform publicly, but will read a lot of new publications which the other bands will not have time to play. The groups will be organized on Monday and will meet each day at 3:30 p.m. Students who are accepted for membership will count this as one of the required five periods.

Every twirling student must check with Mrs. Beverly Johnson on July 12 in order to find out the correct twirling class to take. A short try-out will be necessary at that time. Any twirler may enroll for the 2:30 p.m. or 4:30 p.m. twirling labs. The work will include two-baton work, strutting, routines, and similar requirements of all twirlers which are not included in the regular twirling classes.

Private lessons will be offered by WTSU faculty members and visiting teachers who are specialists in the areas being taught.

An additional fee is charged for private instruction--$3 for each half-hour of woodwind, brass, percussion, strings or piano, and $3 for each half-hour of private twirling work, or $1.25 per member for classes of three or more.

All private teachers will be on hand enrollment day, and students wishing to take advantage of their help should schedule the lessons at that time. Payment for lessons will be made during registration Sunday.

Other camp activities include two concerts, talent night and the Music Camp Ball. Music campers may swim every day from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the pool in the Activities Center. Facilities for baseball, tennis, ping pong, and other sports are also availble.

Campers may stay in dorms or off campus.

Those who are staying in dormitories may report to the dorm any time after 10 a.m. Sunday to receive room assignments. They are required to attend a meeting Sunday night to learn the rules and regulations.

Girls will be staying in McCaslin, Cousins, Brown and Shirley Halls. Boys will stay in Jarrett, Stafford and Conner Halls.

Meal tickets will be issued on enrollment day to the students staying in the residence halls. The dining hall will be closed on Sunday evening, so the first meal will be served on Monday morning. The snack bar and several cafes will be open for the campers' convenience Sunday night.

Campers will follow certain regulations.

Students attending the camp are not to drive or ride in cars while at the camp. Students staying in the dormitories will be required to check their car keys with the dormitory supervisor. Commuters and Canyon residents are to drive only to and from the campus, and to leave cars parked off campus.

Smoking is not permitted at any time while a student is in attendance at the camp.

The possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages is strictly prohibited.

A definite curfew hour is announced daily and is determined by the activities planned for each evening. Strict enforcement of the curfew regulation is maintained.

Boys are permitted to enter the visiting areas of the girls' dorms from 2:30-10 p.m. only.

Girls are permitted to wear shorts or slacks during the day and to the dining hall for breakfast and lunch. However, skirts must be worn after 5 p.m. and in the dining hall for the evening meal.

No student is permitted to remain in the dorm after 8:30 a.m. unless he is ill and has received special permission from the dorm supervisor.

Most students will depart from the camp immediately following the finale concert on Friday, July 24. Students who give notice in advance may stay in the dorm on July 24, and check out any time between 6 a.m. and noon on the next day. Such students will be required to observe a 10 p.m. curfew July 24.

All students should bring informal clothing, a white shirt or blouse and colored trousers or skirt for concerts and pictures, dress up clothes, a swimming suit and equipment for favorite sports and a blanket, pillow, pillowcase and sheets for a single bed.

Students must bring their own instruments, in good condition, except for the bass drum and tympani. These students must provide their own sticks.

Twirlers should bring white blouses and white shorts for public performances, as well as practice shorts or slacks.

Formal class work will end at noon Saturday, July 18, and will resume at 7:30 a.m., Monday, July 20. Students may go home during this time if they submit written approval from their parents to the appropriate dormitory supervisor before leaving. Students leaving for the weekend without such written consent will be dropped from the remainder of the camp.

Planned recreation will be provided for those students who remain on campus for the weekend. A chartered bus will take campers to Palo Duro Canyon for a performance of TEXAS Saturday night. There will be a cost of $3 for admission and bus fare.

Camp students requiring minor medical attention will be treated without charge at the college Health Center between 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. Emergency treatment only will be offered at other hours.

Students requiring the services of a phyician or hospitalization will be taken to Neblett Hospital and Clinic. Parents will be billed for services rendered or medications furnished by the clinic.

Piano Lessons, Piano Collection Occupy Time Of Mrs. Laramore

Teaching piano lessons and collecting miniature pianos are two of the activities of this week's homemaker, Mrs. Gary Laramore.

The wife of the band director at Canyon Junior High, Mrs. Laramore herself was a music major at West Texas State University where she was a member of two music sororities, Mu Phi Epsilon and Tau Beta Sigma.

Her piano collection includes 12 miniature pianos which she has collected from different places. Half of them are music boxes.

"None of them play the same songs. I've been real lucky about that," she said.

"I really didn't mean to get started collecting them, but I got one and then I was hooked," she said.

Her first piano was a blown glass one that she got in San Antonio.

Others have come from jewelry stores and department stores and one is a piece of doll furniture. "The most expensive piece of doll furniture I've ever seen," she laughed.

Three of the pianos are from foreign countries.

Another of her hobbies is crafts. "I love to make just about anything-decoupage, antiquing furniture, knitting, crocheting. I also love to make candles during the winter," she said.

"My father helps me a lot with my crafts," she said. "He is a carpenter contractor in Amarillo and he supplies my materials and drills all the holes. I guess he really does all the hard work," she said.

The Laramores moved to Canyon last year from Amarillo.

"It was a funny situation, living in Amarillo, because I was commuting to Canyon every day as I was a graduate assistant in the music department. My husband was commuting to Borger every day where he was band director at a junior high school," she said.

"We were awfully glad to come to Canyon where we could settle down," she said.

The Laramores had lived in Canyon while attending school, she said.

The couple does not yet have any children.

"I guess you could say my family is my husband and Taffy," she laughed, referring to her white, eight and a half year old Pekingese.

Three of Mrs. Laramore's favorite recipes are:

English Lemon Pound Cake

1 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
4 eggs
½ oz. lemon extract
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon yellow color
½ teaspoon salt
3 cups sifted flour
¾ cup buttermilk
1 teaspoon soda
1 tablespoon vinegar

Cream shortening and sugar, add eggs one at a time. Mix well. Add extracts, color and salt. Sift flour again and add alternately with buttermilk. Mix soda and vinegar in a small bowl, and add to the above mixture. Blend well. Bake in a stem pan, greased and floured in a slow oven (325 degrees) for one hour and five minutes--test with toothpick. Do not overbake.

Frost with a lemon glaze icing.

The West Texas State University TTT Component will be structured to include the organization of the university, the public school systems in Canyon and Amarillo and PESO Education Service Center. These three groups along with members of the community, will cooperate in the development of new methods of training teacher trainers.

The TTT Component

Cooperation between University, local school system, education service center and the community will be the keynote in developing a new performance centered plan for teacher education. A steering committee chosen from these groups will coordinate research.

The State of Texas has been divided into six consortia which work individually and cooperatively in all education programs under the direction of the Texas Education Agency. Four of these consortia, labeled F,E, D, and C, are working on the Texas Performance Based TTT Project.

Universities.

the universities who work with prospective teachers; people who head in-service training through educational service centers such as PESO; and people in public schools who supervise in-service training of teachers.

An attempt will be made to move the emphasis in training from a book-centered concept to that of a performance centered concept of training. Currently a student is required to take 124 semesters hours of work in a college or university to prepare for a career in teaching, the basic requirement being to complete the required courses prior to entering the field. The newer concept would include more laboratory work with actual teaching and certification to be based on this performance rather than the completion of textbook centered courses.

An effort will be made to identify the prospective teachers at an early date in the college career and to place them in laboratory situations with children. rather than wait until a student has almost completed his education before entering a classroom to do student teaching.

Through filming and other procedures an assessment will be made of teaching ability and an individual program designed for each student to achieve at his own pace.

Dr. Smith emphasized two points of departure in taking this new look at the educational process. First, "What do the professionals today think is a description of the good teacher?" "What describes the good teacher in terms of performance attitudes.?"

And second, "How does this approach differ from what we now have?"

Smith said, "We will take the courses required and break them down into modules and see which parts are neglected. Academic specialists will look at what teachers actually teach and what they study in college. They will look at the specifics in academics as well as pedagogy."

Special attention will also be given to training teachers of minority group children.

Another facet of the program will be the involvement of the community in which teacher education takes place. Cooperation between Amarillo, Canyon, the public schools systems and the layman.

Senate Bill 8 passed by the Texas Legislature this past session provides for financing the public school part of student teaching beginning in September. It demands by law, cooperation between the public schools and universities and declares responsibility by law for teacher education.

In addition, local steering committees to coordinate research will be composed of members of the university faculties, members of the local school system, the local service organizations and members of the community.

Dr. Smith will be responsible for directing the day to day progress of the state TTT project. Dr. Laycock is the director for the WTSU facet of the research program.

"Because of the advent of interest, a demand and available funds, the program will be expanded to include parks like Palo Duro and five fort sites in Texas, Buck noted.

The Center is scheduled to include information on the plant life, wild life, geology, anthropology, etc. of the Canyon area. However, final plans have not been drawn.

According to Elon Baker, park superintendent, total expenditure on the project will be in the neighborhood of $70,000 including the cost of renovation.

an article that is definitely tied in with party politics and I'm not a party candidate. The code provides specifically for an independent candidate to run.

"I can't see how a judge would apparently lend himself to such maneuvering. What he's done is certainly of interest to Mr. Butler."

Davis said he decided to make the race as an independent candidate because of his interest in responsible local government.

He blamed the commissioners court and Butler for establishment of a surplus commodity warehouse in the county. Actually the warehouse was established by the state and federal governments over the objections of commissioners court.

Davis said he also takes exception to Randall County's participation in the Panhandle Regional Planning commission and is opposed to "layers of government not responsible to the people."

because of the processing a prisoner's first day in jail is the most expensive to the county.

Judge Brown concluded his letter by asking for a joint meeting with the Canyon City Commission is the near future to discuss the jail and county communications system which the city of Canyon also uses.

In other business the court purchased a used IBM typewriter for the county clerk's office and heard a petition by residents of Rockwell Acres in Precinct 1 that the county hard surface roads there.

Precinct 1 Commissioner Jim Fletcher said streets in the development were dedicated in 1969 but as caliche roads.

He said the county would maintain the streets as caliche roads but is not in a position to hard surface them at the present.

"We are not obligated to do it," observed Commissioner Clarence Beckman.

All the commissioners court except Beckman rode in the Fourth of July parade in Amarillo.

"After what they said about us I wouldn't ride in their parade," observed Beckman. Randall County commissioners have come under some scathing criticism from both the Amarillo city commission and Potter County Commissioners Court in recent weeks.

"I just considered the source and rode in the parade anyway," said Commissioner Glenn Dowlen.
